

Jing WU

Associate Professor

Institute of Geology and Geophysics (IGG), Chinese Academy of Sciences (CAS)

Research Interest: Seismic Anisotropy, Earthquake Detection, Repeating Earthquakes, Fault Zone Imaging

Education

2007 Ph.D.	Institute of Geophysics, China Earthquake Administration
2004 M.S. Administration	Institute of Earthquake Science, China Earthquake

Employment

2013.01-	Institute of Geology and Geophysics, CAS, Associate Professor
2015.01-2016.01	Georgia Institute of Technology, USA, Visiting Scholar
2014.02-2014.05	Missouri University of Science and Technology, USA, Visiting Scholar
2010.06-2012.12	Institute of Geology and Geophysics, CAS, Postdoc Fellow
2012.03-2012.06	Georgia Institute of Technology, USA, Visiting Scholar
2009.11-2010.05	Jiangsu Earthquake Administration, CEA, Associate Professor
2007.09-2009.10	Jiangsu Earthquake Administration, CEA, Assistant Professor
2004.11-2005.02	Edinburgh University, UK, Visiting Student
1997.09-2001.08	Nanjing Seismological Observatory, Assistant Professor

Projects

2016-2019 Longmenshan NSFC41574055	High resolution seismicity and 3D crustal anisotropy in Fault Zone based on waveform match technique
2015-2016	Chinese Government Scholarship CSC201404910185
2014-2017 NSFC41374064	Lithosphere rheology and seismic anisotropy in central Tibet
2011-2013 NSFC41074037	Seismic anisotropy in middle and southern part of Tanlu Fault
2009-2011 NSFC40804012	Complex stress distribution revealed by seismic anisotropy

*CSC -- Chinese Government Scholarship; *NSFC -- National Natural Science Foundation of China

Honors

2008	Excellent Doctoral Dissertation Award of China Earthquake Administration
2005	Excellent Paper Award of the 21th Annual Geophysical Meeting in China
